

N.B. A valid learner permit is required for all driver training courses. The learner permit normally takes 4 – 6 weeks to obtain. But if you opt for the online theory test it speeds thing up greatly.

Information to obtain a learner permit.

Step 1 – Theory Test

Applicants must pass a theory test for the Truck / Bus, the theory test can be booked online www.theorytest.ie or by calling 1890606106.

The cost of a single category theory test is €72 or a combined theory test covering Truck & Bus is €84. You can now do the Theory Test online from your own home which has speeded things up a lot.

The study material for the theory test is called 'The Official Driver Theory Test Questions & Answers for Truck and Bus.

Step 2 – Medical Report Form

You must visit a doctor and get a medical report form completed. The form can be downloaded from the NDLS website ndls.ie

The form is only valid for 30 days once completed.

Step 3 – Learner Permit Application

Once you have passed your theory test & have your medical form completed. You can apply for the Learner Permit online @ www.ndls.ie. This takes about 10 days and will be posted out to you.

The cost of the Learner Permit is €35. The permit is normally valid for two years.

Items required when applying:

Proof of address, dated within six months (Utility bill or Bank statement)

Proof of PPSN (Social security card, letter from Revenue or Payslip)

Photo ID (Full licence or Passport)

Theory Test pass cert

Medical report form

Any questions in relation to the theory test or learner permit can be directed to Advance Drive 091524689 / info@advancedrive.com